

DONATIONS AND TRANSFERS //

The D'Youville college archives welcomes donations of materials that document the history and evolution of the college from administrators, faculty, staff, students, alumni, and the general public. Materials of particular interest include records of student organizations and social clubs (including founding documents, minutes, reports, publications, and photographs), records of academic programs and schools, college publications (programs, flyers, newsletters), faculty and staff biographical records, and documentation of life at D'Youville (scrapbooks, diaries, letters, and photographs).

DONATIONS //

Donations are considered gifts to the archives, and donors will be asked to sign a deed of gift document acknowledging transfer of ownership to the archives. The archives collects materials in all formats, including paper, photographs, memorabilia, audio/visual materials and electronic records.

TRANSFERRING COLLEGE RECORDS //

The college archives acquires and preserves institutional records of administrators, departments, schools, faculty and staff. The college archivist is available for consultation to determine the historic and research value of records, as well as for transfer of records to the archives.

Special Collections

The D'Youville College Archives contain the institutional records and historical materials of D'Youville, and document the history and evolution of the college from 1908 to the present. Materials in the collection include administrative records, college publications, audio-visual materials, photographs, artifacts, and rare books.

THE D'YOUVILLE COLLEGE ARCHIVES //

was established on February 1, 1967 by Sister St. Mary Jones at the request of college president Sister Francis Xavier Lynch, GNSH.

Collections

COLLEGE RECORDS //

The largest collection in the archives, college records document the history and evolution of D'Youville from its beginnings in 1908 to the present. Materials are arranged by record groups, which include administration, academic programs, departments and offices, evaluation, facilities, faculty, institutional advancement, affiliated organizations and projects, students, memorabilia, and media.

PICTURE GALLERY //

An extensive collection of over 1,000 photographs covering D'Youville history.

GREY NUNS //

D'Youville College was founded by the Grey Nuns in 1907. Although the official archives of the Grey Nuns of the Sacred Heart are held in Yardley, Pa., the college archives does collect histories of the Grey Nuns, as well as biographies of St. Marguerite and Mother Bruyere, foundress of the Grey Nuns of Ottawa. There are also several theses on the history of D'Youville as well as Sister Mary Sheila Driscoll's pamphlet series on the history of the college.

RARE BOOKS //

Comprising over 250 volumes, high-lights of the rare book collection include a first edition David Copperfield in original wrappers, Londina Illustrata, Les Oeuvres de Monsieur de Balzac, and The Life and Works of Jean Leon Gerome. The oldest book in the collection is an incomplete copy of The First Theological Orations of Gregory of Nazianzus from 1523. The collection also includes selections from two personal libraries, that of Dr. Henry A. Lappin and Bishop William Turner.

Dr. Lappin was a professor of English at D'Youville and avid book collector. Most of his books have been inscribed by the author. Bishop Turner was former chancellor of D'Youville and bequeathed his book collection to the college on his death in 1936.

The College Archives acquires and preserves institutional records of administrators, departments, schools, faculty and staff.

VERTICAL FILE //

The archives maintains A to Z subject files of topics, events, and people related to D'Youville College (the "vertical file"). Materials contained in each file vary, but can include images, correspondence, brochures, and clippings.
